We cannot provide you an extension of time under these circumstances. I understand you previously represented to the Court that your counsel would appear by today, and that the responses would be served by today.

Jessica,

I am working with new counsel for this case, but we are needing until Monday to comply with your requests. Would you be willing to allow this?

Thank you,

Dan Rasure

Mr. Rasure:

Your responses to Nevada Controls' discovery requests were due on July 5. You contacted my associate Jessica Woelfel in July regarding the responses, but we still have not received them. All objections have now been waived. Please immediately provide the responses to the discovery requests.

Sincerely,

Leigh T. Goddard | Partner

Subject: NV Controls v. Wind Pump Power - outstanding discovery and case deadlines

Mr. Rasure:

I am contacting you once again to inquire about the outstanding discovery requests. Your responses to interrogatories and requests for production of documents were due on or before July 5. All objections have now been waived and the responses are long overdue. Please provide the responses immediately.

Also, given the delay in responding to the discovery and the delay in securing new counsel for the entities, it will be necessary to extend the deadlines contained in the stipulated discovery plan and scheduling order previously filed with the Court. Please let me know if you are agreeable to extending those deadlines. If so, I'll prepare an amended plan and send it to you via e-mail for approval and signature.

Sincerely,
